TUNNEL CEMENT (taken over by CASTLE CEMENT)

When test borings were conducted for the original Dartford Tunnel, circa 1880, the huge chalk beds were discovered, and the Tunnel Cement company founded. The pits "worked out" at Thurrock because apart from financial constraints they could no go any deeper, they were actually affecting the water table at New River Head, Amwell, near Hoddesdon 24 miles away. Tunnel then withdrew to Pitstone near Leighton Buzzard.
